Lois Weis

PUBLICATIONS

Books:

The Unknown City: The Lives of Poor and Working Class Young Adults (with Michelle Fine) (Boston: Beacon Press, 1998).

Off White (edited, with Michelle Fine, Mun Wong, Linda Powell) (New York: Routledge, 1997).

Monographs:

High School as a Site for the Encouragement of White Male Dominance, Graduate School of Education, SUNY at Buffalo, 1990, 39 pp.

Race, Class and Schooling, (edited and with an introduction by Lois Weis), Comparative Education Center, SUNY at Buffalo, 1986, 121 pp.

Articles in Refereed Journals:

“Producing Whiteness: An Exploration of Working Class Whiteness in Two Contexts.” Discourse. Vol. 23 No 1, April 2002 (with Susan Lombardo).

“I Was Going Up for Assistant Manager: African American Women, Crossing Borders.” Educational...

“Seeing Education Relationally: The Stratification of

“Faculty Perspectives and Practice at an Urban Community College.” Higher Education 14, 5 (1985): 553-574.

“Educational Outcomes and School Processes: Theoretical Perspectives.” Canadian and International

Book Chapters:

“Domestic Violence: At the Intersections of Race, Class and Gender in the U.S,” (with M. Fine and R.

“For Whom? Qualitative Research, Representations and Social Responsibilities,” in Handbook of Qualitative Research, 2nd edition, eds. N. Denzin and Y. Lincoln

